Hey Martin,

I hope you are doing well.

Thank you very much for the inspiration and words of wisdom. I loved reading through them and feeling the energy/understanding that flows through my body with each word motivating me to achieve my goals as well as live my life to the fullest. Hoping to continue our conversation over email/LinkedIn whatever works best for you (email: parekh.samarth@gmail.com), till then I bid you adieu

Hi Martin,

I hope you are doing well.

Apologies for the delay in writing back, have had a rough week due to family situations, but as we come to a close in our conversation on this platform, I look forward to starting a new one through email, and continuing to learn from each other as we both continue our journeys of growth and learning.

First off, congratulations on the certificate, truly an inspiration for dedication and commitment, and I hope to take that and apply it in my own work. Additionally, I am looking forward to your email to discuss courses and how I can advance my learning. I really appreciated the pointers and valuable quotes you provided. Additionally, thanks you for the reference of Danny Leonard. I sent him a him LinkedIn connect and am looking forward to learning from his content and resources.

Once again, thank you so so much for such an incredible semester, I have truly enjoyed our communications, and the amount I have learned has been so valuable that I can truly say I have grown as a person beyond the academic aspects, a crucial part of life I aim to continue to work on. Looking forward to hearing back from you and hearing of all the new things you have to teach!

Dear Martin,

Thank you for your continued support and valuable insights. I truly appreciate your proactive approach to sharing resources and guidance.

I will definitely explore the cybersecurity resources provided by Hack The Box and delve into the networking chapter you mentioned. It's always beneficial to enhance skills in these areas, especially considering their relevance in the current technological landscape.

I'm sorry to hear about the login credential issue, but I'm glad you were able to resolve it. I agree that maintaining connections beyond formal mentorship is crucial, and I'll make sure to stay in touch via LinkedIn and email.

The chapter from Ries and Trout's book on marketing positioning looks promising, and I'll make time to review it. Creating an online portfolio is also on my agenda, and I'll explore different platforms to find the best fit for showcasing my credentials.

Your pointers on various aspects such as handling questions, management principles, and software recommendations are invaluable. I'll keep them in mind as I navigate through my career journey.

Dear Martin

The youtube video you sent was very insightful. I found it extremely relevant to what I am seeing in the world today. I even looked into some of his other videos and will definitely make a point to check them out when I have more time on my hands.

I would like to set a zoom meeting with you to have more thorough discussions if that's okay. What date and time would work best for you?

Thanks,

Sarah.

Kshiti's Message:

Hello Martin,

Your profile was suggested by University Career Alumni Network (UCAN) as someone great to learn from. Would you be open to sharing your experience and professional journey with me?

To introduce myself, I am pursuing a Masters in Data Science at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where I am expanding my skills and knowledge in data analysis, machine learning, and statistics. I am passionate about applying data science to solve real-world problems, and I have completed multiple courses and certifications in R, Python, and other tools.

As a technology consultant at PwC, I worked with leading banks across India to develop and implement fraud detection algorithms using cloud computing. I contributed to delivering innovative solutions that enhanced the security and efficiency of the banking sector and received the Above and Beyond Individual Award for my performance. I look forward to connecting with you soon!

Thank you,
Kshiti
