IMPORTANT - This form must be attached to your final examination when it is submitted to your proctor.

Final examination papers are not returned to the student but are kept on file for a reasonable period of time — either in departmental files or those of the Guided Individual Study Office. This critique sheet, however, will be returned to you along with the instructor's comments and your final grade for the course.

Instructor's Comments Concerning the Final Examination

It is often helpful to begin arguing your thesis with an illustration — the problem's relevance, dimensions, significance or the like - but your opening "metaphor" occupies three full pages, nearly 50% of the essay. Tail has begun to wag dog, and reader gropes for perspective! More thought about proper wiring of circuits during pre-writing stage of composition would have led you to begin with something more general, on the order of your concluding paragraph. In a general essay of this kind you must avoid wheels-within-wheels, "baroque" approach. Go first for the safe, ordered "classical" outlines - e.g., the knowledgeable people who are dangerous (experts in one area who lack self-knowledge) the areas of learning predicated on self-knowledge eg.

Dear Bob:

I have a man in Montevideo, Uruguay that has been taking SIUC courses we offer on-site and has also been taking some of our individualized courses. He is close to fulfilling our general education requirements but needs English Comp and Technical Repaort Writing. I notice in Peterson IS Catalog that you have got Principles of Composition-Rhetoric 105-4. Our admissions people will transfer it as the equivalent of our GED 101.

I would appreciate it if you would send information on enrolling to the following individual in care of the school:

Mr. Martin Balestie
Uruguayan American School
1785 Dublin
Montivedeo, Uruguay

If you would also send me a copy of what you send him I will not have to bother you again in the event that the mail fails. If you do have a technical report writing course (perhaps not listed), I would appreciate knowing what the details are.

Sincerely,

James Osberg, Coordinator
International Contractual
Programs

PS: I know that some schools will not do something like this out of the country. If you were to take this student on, we would arrange for APO delivery through the U.S. Embassy, or if you wish, I could act as an intermediary. The Director of the Uruguayan American School is currently doing our testing. Mr. Balestie, by the way, is a teacher at the Uruguayan American School.

Dear Darlene:

I am hoping that you will remember our conversation concerning Mr. Martin Balestie, a teacher located in Montevideo, Uruguay. As you will recall, he wished to take Rhetoric 105 by correspondence. He has since submitted an application for the course directly to your office; however, he did not send any money. I am enclosing herewith the money for the course.

You quoted a price of $186.00 for the course, $18.75 for The Writing Commitment and $5.00 for postage. There was also a $30.00 air mail deposit. That will not be necessary because the below address is an APO and you may use the normal means to mail materials to him.

$185.00	Course Delivery Charge
18.75	Textbook
5.00	Mail
$209.75	Total
$211.00	Payment Enclosed

I gather Mr. Balestie added an extra $1.25 for good measure. You may leave that on account - whatever! Incidentally, since he did not write a separate check for the book, I do not have the option of buying it here for him.

All materials and his text may be sent to the following address. It is important that his name not appear on the envelope, only the nomenclature provided:

Administrative Officer (UAS)
American Embassy Montevideo
APO Miami, FL 34035

Darlene, if you have any difficulty with this registration, please let me know. You may want to use the Social Security number we assigned him if it works with your system; it is a dummy we created: 999-01-3677. Thanks in advance for your help in making this possible for Mr. Balestie. I am sure he is deeply grateful since this is the only way he has of finishing his SIU-C degree.

Sincerely,

James Osberg
